WEAVERS CURRENCY PLANK.

For the benefit of the few who harp about "Weaver's green back craze" we give the platform upon which he ran in 1880 at least the financial plank. Here it is:

All money, whether metallic or paper should be issued, and the volume controlled, by the government and not by or through banking corporations, and when so issued should be a full legal tender for all debts, public and private. That the bonds of the United States should not be refunded, but paid as rapidly as practicable according to contract. To enable the government to meet these obligations legal tender currency should be substituted for the notes of the national banks, the national banking system abolished and the unlimited coinage of silver, as well as gold, established by law.

Now read it, consider it, ponder over every syllable, and see if you can discover any "craze" other than created in national banking institutions, or any "flat" other than falsehood breeds and cunning creates.

The Treachery of the Administration.

The silver act of 1890 provides that the certificates issued for the purchase of silver bullion shall be paid in gold or silver at the option of the U. S. Treasurer. But the Treasurer invariably pays them in gold simply to maintain the gold standard, and says he will issue bonds and sell them to raise gold coin for the payment of these certificates if necessary and will not pay out the silver in the treasury. Henry Claws, the New York gold-bug banker, has already applied to Secretary Foster to issue to the banks $25,000,000 of gold bonds as basis for the more enlarged use of banking. A few days ago the Treasurer paid out $1,000,000 in gold in redemption of these certificates to be shipped to Germany. This was done to further degrade silver and as an excuse to comply with Claws' request. And besides the gold-bugs wanted one million dollars laying around loose when Harrison's international conference shall meet.

They hesitated not in spending half a million on our Congress in demonetizing silver and they will not squirm at using a million on that conference to effect an international gold standard league to forever put a quietus on the silver craze. Oh, give us electoral tickets for Harrison and Cleveland in Nevada; we want to see them on the stump with the Silver party's ticket. The people are laying awake nights in their anxiety to see them.—Silver State.

Governor Toole of Montana has come out squarely for free coinage. He says no consistent advocate of free coinage can support either of the Wall Street candidates.

"I cannot and will not support Cleveland," says the Governor, "but will vote straight for Weaver." Governor Penoyer of Oregon, is also an enthusiastic Weaver man and is doing what he can to elect him.

What will the Winnemucca Convention do? This is the question with the people.—Tribune.

It will attend to several matters in connection with the State of Nevada, which the old party liners have been prostituting for years.

All the people want is representatives that will work in harmony when they go to Washington with the only party that is in favor of the free coinage of silver.

The Republican nominee for Governor of Colorado is a nephew of Alfred Helm, Nevada's Deputy Secretary of State.
